

Change Management Training Digital Transformation & Operational Excellence

Develop and expand your change-management knowledge and create the basis for the successful implementation of changes!

The lasting success of projects and changes depends on acceptance by the participating staff. So-called change agents possess the necessary knowledge of how changes are prepared, accompanied, and effectively implemented.

During this training, you'll get to know practical change-management tools that can be directly implemented. You'll be able to practice applying them, test your resilience in critical situations, and receive 'best-practice' examples to prepare yourself for them.

Content

Preparing changes:

- Creating awareness of problems and mobilizing the will for change
- Working toward a common vision and goal

Accompanying changes:

- Leading the change
- Understanding and managing the team-building process
- Communication and conflict management in the project
- Measuring and controlling the change

Stabilizing changes:

- Creating acceptance among the participants
- Ensuring coaching and knowledge transfer
- Encouraging motivation and creating incentive mechanisms
- Adjusting systems and structures

Target group

The training is aimed at specialists, executives, project leaders, and change commissioners, who carry out complex improvement projects or modify entire companies.
